Excel Cushion

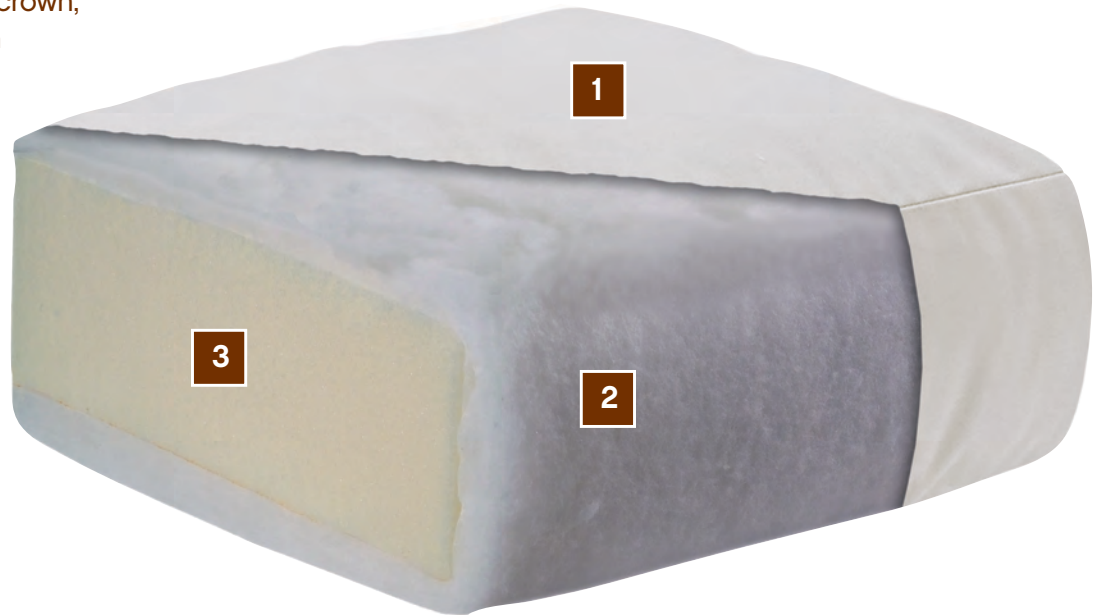

High-density HR foam core surrounded by thermally bonded fiber and resilient conjugated fiber (blown in Cotton/Polyester).

What I'm Made Of:

By allowing fabric to drape more loosely, this cushion creates a more casual look and feel. Non-woven (1) accord ticking is sewn into a jacket allowing the border of the cushion to return to its proper shape and stitching channels are then filled with resilient conjugated fiber (blown in Cotton/Polyester).

(2) A 2oz. slick, low-melt fiber is thermally bonded and wraps the seat crown, helping the cushion maintain its shape and plush feel.

Furthermore, all of this surrounds our (3) polyurethane 1.8 high-density HR foam core that is produced through "High-Resiliency" polyurethane technology, making it possible to achieve a deep-seating effect with a more durable, long-term performance.
